Robust Mount System

We have engineered a seriously robust mount system for the Pegasi bathroom accessories. To ensure that these fittings do not come loose or rattle, we have engineered a smart 1-piece forged brass mount flange. The plate spigot fits snugly into the bracket and fastens securely with a stainless steel cone point hex screw.

Strong Stainless steel rails

Pegasi carries forward Faucet Strommen's tradition of using strong stainless steel tubes for towel rails. These tubes are far more rigid than brass versions and completely corrosion resistant. Pegasi towel rails can be easily cut and re-assembled to create a towel rail of custom length. We can supply custom length rail tubes up to 1200mm. These tubes fit to the brackets with nylon inserts and o-rings for a snug, rattle-free result.

Brass Construction

These accessories are made from solid brass. You will feel the weight and quality of these accessories. Flanges are forged brass and the brackets are machined from solid brass bar.
